FOREWORD

It gives me pleasure to authorize the distribution of the Seventeenth Annual Edition of the Municipal Directory.

To make the information in the Municipal Directory more readable and significant the following changes have been made:

- the exempt assessment of each municipality has been included,
- the term of office of a council elected on a biennial basis or the existence of the staggered system of elections has been indicated,
- the growth in the population and the assessment of the municipalities has been analyzed and illustrated in a more meaningful manner,
- the typography has been revised,
- the sections have been rearranged in a more logical sequence, and the layout of the Directory of Municipalities by County and District has been simplified,
- the cross-reference between the municipalities, the electoral districts and the Members of the Legislature has been improved, and
- the information on road and street mileage within the municipalities and acreage of the municipalities has been deleted.

On behalf of those who find the Municipal Directory useful, I express appreciation to the municipal officials who furnished the Department with the information from which the Directory has been compiled.

ASSESSMENT

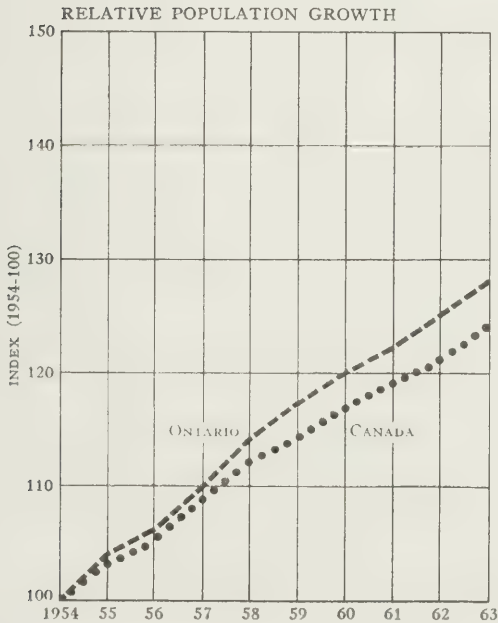

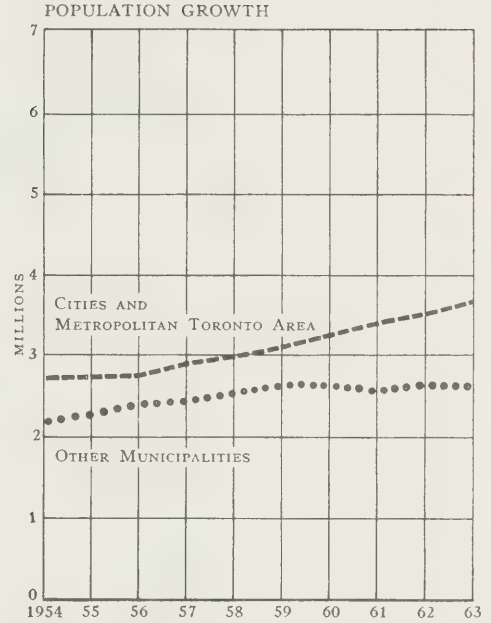

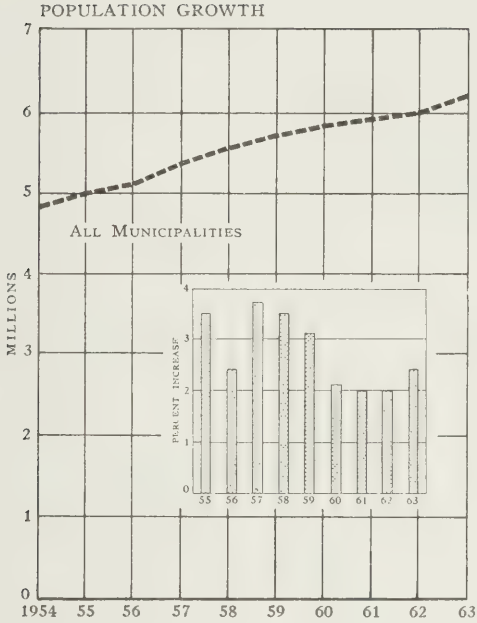

EXPLANATION

The taxable and the exempt assessment of the municipalities, which is entered on pages 18 to 117, is referred to as the "1963 assessment", and was determined and reported by the assessor during the year 1963 and was delivered to the clerk prior to October 31st of that year. The taxable assessment, as entered on the above-mentioned pages, is that upon which realty and business taxes for the year 1964 will be levied, subject to minor variations because of appeals.

The growth in exempt assessment, as disclosed in these graphs, may be explained substantially by the fact that, prior to recent years, many municipalities either did not assess exempt properties at all or assessed them at unrealistic amounts.

POPULATION

EXPLANATION

The population of the municipalities which is entered on pages 18 to 117 is referred to as the "1963 assessed population" and is the population reported by the assessor during the year 1963 less the number of persons who reside in institutions, defence establishments and on Indian reserves. The assessed population has been used in the preparation of the graphs.
